FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1902

THE thing that should at once appeal to the people of Seymour is the completion of the work to secure that new industry that is knocking at our doors. That must be done right away or it will be too late. Another manufacturing plant that will employ 150 or more people will be worth a great deal more to the city than it will cost. It will benefit the laborer, the business man and the property owner. It will give the whole city an uplift. There is no doubt whatever about securing it if the people will take hold and help the movement along.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

The Jackson county republican committee met at Brownstown Thursday to talk over matters pertaining to the approaching campaign. It was decided to hold the county convention at Brownstown on a date near the first of September. The exact date will be fixed and announced within a few days. Delegates will be chosen in township conventions the date for which will be fixed soon.

Hon. O. H. Montgomery, the Fourth district chairman, held a conference with the county chairman of the district at North Vernon today. It is probable that the time for holding the congressional convention will be agreed upon at this meeting. W. H. Burkley and Mr. Montgomery went over on the forenoon train to be present at this meeting.

R. Harry Miller, of Fairmount, president of the state Lincoln League, has named E. A. Remy as the Fourth district member of the organization committee of the league. The appointment came as a surprise to Mr. Remy for he was not an applicant and did not even know that he was being considered for a place in this organization until he saw a notice of the appointment in the Journal this morning.

Nathan Powell, of Madison, has been appointed a member of the advisory committee of the Indiana Lincoln League.

Congressman Griffith is booked for a speech at a Sunday school picnic in Bartholomew county August 9. Great drawing card is this Fourth district statesman.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Operator Nathan Fisher has returned to Indian Springs.

Baggage master C. A. Ramsey, of the S. L., has returned to work.

Conductor Will Corbun and wife and daughter have gone to Cincinnati for a week's visit.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he could not, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicine failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivalled for diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

George Bebout, of Freetown, was here today on business.

Kindly Take Notice that Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is of great benefit to those sufferers from nasal catarrh who cannot inhale freely through the nose, but must treat themselves by spraying. Liquid Cream Balm differs in form, but not medicinally from the Cream Balm that has stood for years at the head of remedies for catarrh. It may be used in any nasal atomizer. The price, including a spraying tube, is 75 cts. Sold by druggists and mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

THE TENT MEETING.

Splendid Service Last Night—Children's Meeting Tomorrow.

Not uncomfortably crowded in the canvas covered auditorium, the good sized audience that gathered to hear Dr. Smiley on "The Religion that Seymour Needs" were able to listen with comfort last night. The rush of wind and the black, threatening cloud in the west just before service so alarmed many that they stayed away from what proved a very fine meeting. The Evangelist made a promise in opening his sermon that most men would have thought it would be difficult to fulfill, "I am going to tell you how to double the membership of your churches." In a strong and entertaining sermon he proceeded to do so, telling how Andrew found his own brother, Simon, how John went out and brought in James, and how Philip brought Nathaniel to Jesus, and in one day the company of three had increased to six. "That was the way it was done; everyone brought another." After telling how members are won for lodges and other bodies, he cried, "Why not buttonhole people for your church and for the Lord Jesus Christ."

The address of this morning on "What Jesus Said About Persecution" was up to the high standard of the previous morning talks and was greatly enjoyed. Dr. Smiley seems to find the fine art of pat illustration easy and natural. His illustrations are nearly all culled from his own rich and full experience, and are therefore fresh and original and possess a personal interest. Though he tells few stories, he is a born storyteller, and the few he favors his audience with are greatly enjoyed and drive home some truths like a pile-driver.

The day meetings will be held next week at three in the afternoon at the Presbyterian church for three days and for three days in the Methodist church. Requests have come for three services every day but it is not thought wise to hold so many.

Until the present all the sermons and addresses have been directed to church members and no appeal has been made to the unconverted. A business man of some prominence announced his conversion to one of the pastors last night, however, without waiting for "the drawing of the net."

Dr. Smiley hopes every child in the city will be sent to his children's meeting tomorrow morning at 9:30. It is to be a picture sermon to children, illustrated by paintings large enough to be seen distinctly all over the tent. Parents and others are invited too, but it is to be made particularly interesting to children.

His Sight Threatened

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for a while we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. Pellens' drug store. Peter's drug store.

New Cases Filed.

The following new cases have been filed with the clerk of the Jackson circuit court within the past few days: Wm. A. Stewart vs. Bertha Stewart, divorce.

Josephine A. Goss, by her guardian Allice Goss vs. Walter Goss et al, partition.

The first National Bank of Seymour vs. Horace M. Schwing, as executor of the will of Richard F. White, deceased, et al; note and mortgage.

Edgar O. Hunter vs. Board of Commissioners of Jackson county, demanding $500 due on contract made with the board of commissioners December 14, 1892. On the above date a contract was made with Mort Fleece and John H. Hunter to examine the books and vouchers in the county offices to ascertain whether any money was due Jackson county from the state of Indiana on account of errors or omission. They found that the state owed the county $1,075.81 and caused the same to be paid into the county treasury. Under their contract they were to receive one-half this sum and this, it is alleged, has not been paid. The suit is brought by Edgar O. Hunter as the administrator of the estate of the late John H. Hunter who was the owner of the claim at the time of his death.

The last paragraph of the contract made with Fleece and Hunter in 1892 is significant and interesting, for the reason that it especially excludes an examination into the official standing of the county officers themselves and reads as follows:

"Be it understood that this proposition does not include the examination of the accounts of the officers or ex-officers of the county with a view of ascertaining whether or not there is anything due from them to the county. Any money that may be due the county that is known to the officials is hereby excepted."

Avoid these Sharks.

From Columbus comes this bit of information that may be of service to some of our readers:

A stranger sold John Ball, a prominent farmer here, two patent lamps and had him sign an order to receive them and pay $5 when delivered. After Ball signed the order the salesman gave him a contract signed by the agent of the company he claimed to be representing, placed in a sealed envelope and told Ball not to open it till he returned, five days later. The young man returned with another man and delivered the two lamps and asked for the contract. Ball had opened the envelope for which they said they could put him in the penitentiary. After a hot dispute the strangers offered to compromise for $150, cash or note. Ball refused either proposition and the strangers drove away. It is believed the order Ball signed to accept the lamps will turn up as a $500 note.

It Needs a Tonic.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave. Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Early Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take. Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress. Pellens' drug store. Peter's drug store.

Back From Canada.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 1.—Dodge Wolverton, the wealthy farmer, who secured the surrender of his two children by the aid of a shotgun and fled to Canada, and whose wife has brought suit for divorce and $20,000 alimony, returned yesterday. Upon his arrival he was arrested on ten charges. He was located in Windsor, Can., and was induced to come back by William Noon, lifelong friend. The children are still in Canada.

Grocers Get Together.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 1.—A consolidation of a large number of wholesale grocery houses in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio was effected and a corporation organized known as the National Grocery Company of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $500,000. The articles of incorporation of the company have just been filed with the secretary of state here.

Biggest In the World.

Fresno, Cal., Aug. 1.—What is undoubtedly the largest known tree in the world has been discovered on the government reservation far up in the Sierras in this county. Six feet from the ground it took a line 154 feet, eight inches long to encircle the tree, making it over fifty-one feet in diameter.

By the Dynamite Route.

Brookville, Pa., Aug. 1.—Barnabas McConn, a well-known citizen, committed suicide yesterday by igniting a stick of dynamite. His body was frightfully mangled, and his home partially wrecked by the explosion. The cause for the deed is not known.

Expenditures Of The Last Session of Congress

By
The Hon. James Hemenway,
Member of Congress from the First Indiana District.

A member of the Indiana delegation who has arisen to a place of commanding influence in the national house of representatives by reason of the industrious exercise of strong legal and business ability, is the Hon. James A. Hemenway of the First district. Mr. Hemenway is the "right hand man" of Chairman "Joe" Cannon, who, by the way, is also a Hoosier by birth, on the appropriation committee, next to the ways and means committee the most important of the subsidiary bodies, "little legislatures," as Speaker Reed called them, which practically control the business of the house. An important position on the appropriations committee is of the greatest value to the entire state. Mr. Hemenway has personally had charge of the "steering" of some of the most important appropriation bills. By reason of his thorough knowledge of the subject, additional interest will attach to the following specially contributed article on the appropriations of the recently closed session of the Fifty-seventh congress.

"It is not the amount of appropriation that creates anxiety in the minds of the people, but it is the integrity and wisdom with which such appropriations are disbursed, and the honest value received therefor, which gives them confidence and contentment."

The above was the utterance of James N. Burnes, one of the most brilliant and distinguished representatives ever elected to congress by the Democrats of Missouri, and it has been handed down from his time as a truism, with reference to appropriations and expenditures.

This statement might at this time be further reinforced by adding thereto the maxim that when appropriations for the support of the government are passed with practical unanimity by congress, it is safe to assume that they contain no elements of jobbery or dishonesty.

At the session of congress just closed, notwithstanding the appropriation bills were passed under circumstances affording the greatest possible latitude for discussion, it was a subject of comment that they were passed almost absolutely without opposition from the minority, with a single exception, to which I will refer later.

The appropriations made at the first session of the 57th congress, recently closed, aggregate in round numbers $800,000,000, including $50,130,000 for an isthmian canal. For purposes of comparison that sum should be deducted from the grand total. It is for a great, momentous project, designed for the upbuilding of American commerce and for our public defense. Both political parties are committed to it in their platform declarations.

In the beginning of our national history the appropriations for the support of the federal government were all carried in a bill of less than a dozen lines, and were expressed in the most general terms. The natural tendency of the representatives of the people in congress in later years has been to particularize and to express in detail all appropriations of public money, on the theory that publicity and express details serve to promote careful and safe administration of the sums voted. As a result the expenditures of the government are now authorized in fourteen regular annual appropriation bills, in addition to certain other expenditures, such as interest on the public debt and provision for the sinking fund, provided for by permanent statute.

Among these regular annual appropriation bills passed during the recent session, I will first refer to those that make reductions, as compared with the appropriations of the preceding session.

Bills Showing Decreases.

The army appropriation bill shows a most gratifying reduction of $24,203,912, made possible by the wise administration of the war department in reducing the army within the last twelve months from 77,287 men to 66,497 men.

The fortification bill shows a reduction of $55,066. I have been honored with the responsibility of the preparation of this bill during the last three years. It makes provision for the sea coast defenses of the country and for their armament. At this time, by reason of adequate and proper expenditures made within recent years, our country for the first time in its history since the close of the civil war is in condition to repel from our shores the attempted advance of any foreign foe.

The Indian appropriation bill shows a reduction of $603,568.

The pension appropriation bill is reduced $5,403,000, not in consequence of any effort at economy at the expense of the veterans and their widows and orphans, but because the natural high-water mark in pension expenditures has been reached and passed.

The sundry civil bill, which provides for the construction of public buildings, the lighthouse service, the expenses of the federal courts, and innumerable other civil branches of the government, shows a reduction of $1,670,549.

For miscellaneous objects not included in the general bills there was appropriated $5,390,018 less than was appropriated in the same way during the previous session. Among the items provided for was $170,000 for the establishment of a national sanitarium of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Hot Springs, South Dakota.

For permanent annual appropriations the amount estimated by the treasury department is reduced $427,000. This results from a decrease in our annual interest charge arising from a very considerable reduction in the public debt made within the last year.

Bills Showing Increases.

The appropriation bills that show increase as compared with those passed at the previous session are as follows: The agricultural bill, $626,540. This is the bill that provides for the expenses of the agricultural department, which has been extending its scope and usefulness in fostering and upbuilding the agricultural interests of the country.

The diplomatic and consular bill shows an increase of $108,496—a sum inconsequential when considered in connection with the rapidly expanding commercial interests of our country with every part of the habitable globe.

The District of Columbia appropriation bill, which provides for the national capital, shows an increase of $45,257.

The legislative, executive and judicial bill shows an increase of $803,412. This bill provides for the salary rolls of all of the executive departments of Washington, the judicial salaries, and various other office and routine expenses of the national government.

The military academy bill shows an increase of $1,854,670, attributable wholly to the necessary reconstruction of old buildings and the construction of additional buildings at West Point, to house and instruct properly the young men drawn from the ranks of the people to be trained as the future officers of the armies of the republic.

The naval bill shows an increase of $577,172. The upbuilding of the navy is demanded by the people, and must go on until our country shall rank second to none on the seas.

Rural Free Delivery.

The postoffice appropriation bill shows a notable increase of $14,633,910. This sum includes more than $4,000,000 of increase for the rural free delivery service—a service that has been inaugurated and is in most successful operation in all of the leading communities of the country under the auspicious administrations of Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt. No Democrat in the last session of congress raised his voice in opposition to this advance of modern progress, despite the fact that the first appropriation for this service, made by a Republican congress during the last Cleveland administration, was not expended through the refusal of the administration to execute it.

The river and harbor bill appropriated $26,727,442, which on its face is a downright increase over the previous session of congress. In fact, no river and harbor bill was passed at either session of the previous congress. The bill in question is a most carefully prepared measure, providing for the improvement of the waterways and great harbors of the country.

The deficiency bills in the aggregate exhibit an increase of $12,122,464. This large increase is chiefly due to the expenses incident to the reduction of our military establishment in the Philippine Islands and the transportation of our troops home. This aggregate also includes $4,272,239 for refunding the states moneys expended in raising troops to suppress the war of the rebellion; and of this sum $635,859.20 comes to the state of Indiana.

Where Democrats Opposed.

Among the other important items included among the deficiencies was a sum of $500,000 "for the proper shelter and protection of officers and enlisted men of the army of the United States lawfully on duty in the Philippine Islands, to be expended in the discretion of the president." Of all the vast sums properly and necessarily appropriated during the session, this patriotic item alone seems to have provoked the substantial opposition of the Democratic members of the house. After protracted and acrimonious debate, a roll-call was had, and every Democrat but seven recorded himself in opposition.

Appropriations Really Decreased.

The foregoing is but a brief, and at best an inadequate analysis of our national appropriations. Eliminating the sum of $50,130,000 appropriated for the isthmian canal, the sum total is only $750,000,000, or about $20,000,000 in excess of the appropriations made at the last session of the previous congress, which provided for river and harbor bill. Had the river and harbor bill passed which the 56th congress had under consideration, but which failed in the last hours of the session because of the personal opposition of a single senator, the appropriations of that session would have exceeded those of the session recently closed.

Vest is Right.

Senator Vest recently said that so long as Republican prosperity secured the highest price to the farmers and manufacturers for their products there was no hope of Democratic victory. Undoubtedly the Senator is correct.—Warren County Republican.

JULY WEATHER AND CROPS.

An Abundant Harvest and Splendid Prospects for a Great Corn Crop.

July, 1902, was a month of very seasonable weather, with few unusual conditions. Harvest and threshing were completed, and the yields of wheat and oats were the heaviest and best for a period of 25 years. Hay made a fair crop and grasses are in prime condition. The corn prospect was rarely, if ever better, while melons, potatoes and other vegetables are abundant and prime. The apple crop is fair, but other fruits, berries and grapes are light in yield and poor in quality. Fall plowing has commenced and more than the usual acreage will be cultivated to fall crops.

The warmest day was the 9th, with a temperature mean of 83 degrees, and the coolest was the 21st, with a mean of 67 degrees above zero. The total precipitation was 5.10 inches—2.25 inches fell on the 19th—rain fell on 8 days, 12 days were clear, 18 were partly cloudy and only one was cloudy. Hail fell on the 19th, gales occurred on the 18th and 27th and thunder storms were noted on the 6th, 7th, 16th 18th, 23d, 27th and 28th. Temperatures: Maximum, 93 on the 9th; minimum, 54 on the 17th, and mean, 75.2 degrees above zero. The monthly temperature range was 39 degrees, and the greatest daily range was 38 degrees on the 17th.

It is not often that one finds a love story which is absolutely satisfactory, and a fine love story ending in renunciation is a still rarer thing. Such, however, is "Broken Toys" with its Roman setting and its atmosphere of noble love and tragic renunciation. Another story which will interest readers of the August COSMOPOLITAN is "The Soul of Mozart" which centers in the theme of transmigration of souls, a problem fascinating even to the ancients. It is a tradition that society stories are written by those who have never moved in society; but Mrs. Poultnery Bigelow writes "The Story of a Scented Note" from within the charmed circle.

To Recover Engagement Ring.

The article below, which appeared in Thursday's Indianaop. Sun relating to a suit brought in the Marion county superior court created much surprise here because the suit involves former prominent and well known residents of Seymour. The suit is entirely out of the ordinary. Following is the Sun's comment on the filing of the suit:

"Lynn E. Kepler, attorney, did not get the girl he wanted, and now he is seeking to recover possession of the engagement ring which he gave her."

"The girl who was to have been his wife is Miss Brunette Wilhelm. She and Philip Wilhelm and wife, her parents, are made defendants to the suit which Kepler filed, in superior court, Thursday. He asks for the possession of the ring and $20 for its alleged unlawful detention."

"Miss Wilhelm is the daughter of a former postmaster of Seymour, Indiana, to which place, Kepler says, he sent the ring, August 1 last. It is a diamond ring, for which he says he paid $140.50."

"Constable Philip Marer made a demand upon Miss Wilhelm for the ring, but she refused to give it up. The Wilhelm family lately moved to Indianapolis, and live at 2215 Ashland Avenue."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Does It Pay To Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. You can get this reliable remedy at W. F. Peter's Drug Co. and get a sample bottle free. Regular size, 75 cts. Get Green's special all-manac.

APHORISMS.

The man who procrastinates struggles with ruin.
An apt quotation is as good as an original remark.—Johnson.

Progress is the activity of today and the assurance of tomorrow.—Emerson.

To be vain of one's rank or place is to show that one is below it.—Stanislaus.

The desire of appearing clever often prevents one becoming so.—Rochefoucauld.

God is on the side of virtue, for whoever dreads punishment suffers it, and whoever desires to be dreads it.—Colton.

The mind that is much elevated and insolent with prosperity and cast down by adversity is generally abject and base.

Human nature is so constituted that all see and judge better in the affairs of other men than in their own.—Terece.

Despite all refinement, the light and habitual taking of God's name in vain betrays a coarse and brutal will.—Chaplin.

A Large Covey.
Two old hunters were swapping jars and had got to quail.
"Why," said one, "I remember a year when quail were so thick that you could get eight or ten at a shot with a rifle."

The other one sighed.
"What's the matter?" said the first.
"I was thinking of my quail hunt. I had a fine black horse that I rode everywhere, and one day out hunting quail I saw a big covey on a low branch of a tree. I threw the bird over the end of the limb and took a shot."

"Several birds fell and the rest flew away."
"Well, sir, there were so many quail on that limb that when they flew off it sprang back into place and banged my horse!"—Los Angeles Times.

Turned the Tables.
A lecturer was once descending on the superiority of nature over art when an irreverent listener in the audience fired that old question at him:
"How would you look, sir, without your wig?"

"Young man," instantly replied the lecturer, pointing his finger at him, "you have furnished me an apt illustration for my argument. My baldness can be traced to the artificial habits of our modern civilization, while the wig I am wearing"—here he raised his voice till the windows shook—"is made of natural hair!"

The audience testified its appreciation of the point by loud applause, and the speaker was not interrupted again.

Rice and Rice.
To most people rice is rice, but, notwithstanding this, there is a considerable difference between the Chinese and Japanese and the American article. The former is darker in color and in no way compares with the latter in flavor or quality. Of the American, however, there are a number of grades, of which that grown in the Carolinas is considered the best. When purchasing, see that the grains are large, plump and unbroken. In washing be careful not to break them between the hands.

Astronomical Solutions.
Though 300 years have elapsed since the death of Tycho Brahe, it appears that we are in many things almost as far from the ultimate goal as when he began the great work of exploring the skies before the days of Kepler, when all Europe was stumbling in intellectual darkness. The science of the stars indeed has been refined and perfected in an unparalleled degree and infinitely extended in all directions, but with the bounds of darkness pushed back step by step the goal is not and never will be in sight. An infinity of objects and causes and an endless variety of phenomena are yet to be explored, and the work of the mind is rather a process of development to the perfect understanding of the universe than the solution of a simple mathematical problem.—Atlantic Monthly.

After one woman had convinced a man that she would die for him he begins to look vaguely around to see if there are any more.—Atchison Globe.

Kindly Take Notice that Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is of great benefit to those sufferers from nasal catarrh who cannot inhale freely through the nose, but must treat themselves by spraying. Liquid Cream Balm differs in form, but not medicinally from the Cream Balm that has stood for years at the head of remedies for catarrh. It may be used in any nasal atomizer. The price, including a spraying tube, is 75 cts. Sold by druggists and mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

LIVING IN LONDON.

It Is Not a Good Place for a Man of Small Income.

An American who in the classical language of his country is at present "located" in London wants to know whether any city in the world is quite so niggardly as our town. He has been going the round of the London restaurants and has encountered in the management of them a spirit which distresses him. "There is, to begin with," he says, "a charge of from two pence to sixpence for guarding your hat and coat in the cloakroom, and a tip in addition is expected. You want to wash your hands—another twopenny or another sixpence and another tip. You take up the menu, and behold, there is an intimation that a charge of threepence each person will be made under the guise of 'table money.' The charge varies according to the nature of the place. Threepence is the lowest and sixpence perhaps the average. At a great many restaurants it is 1 shilling and in at least two that I have visited 1s. 6d. The only difference is that in the lower priced restaurants it is called 'table money' and in the higher priced ones placed under the captivating heading of 'convert.' To my mind, an entrance fee frankly demanded at the door would be much less offensive than to find yourself asked at the end of a dinner to pay for the trouble and expense of cleaning up the cutlery you have used."

His conclusion of the whole matter is that "London lives by imposing a fixed tariff on the accessories that in every other city I have ever been to are thrown in gratis," and he thinks that being a gentleman is one of the most expensive professions an Englishman can have. He declares it to be an utter delusion that London is a cheap place to live in. "For the poor man," he says, "the man whose income is less than $800 a year, there is no city where less can be had in the way of comforts and even the necessities of life. In New York it is only the luxuries that cost. The expenses of everyday living may be as great or as small as one cares to make them. New York, in fact, is laid out for the poor man. From the transportation system to the price of such fundamental charges on the household treasury as coal, fuel, meat, bread, milk and fruit, almost everything conspires to bring him in a good return for a very small outlay. All these things are cheaper in New York than in London."—London Chronicle.

Bills in Congress.
The words "has introduced a bill in congress," applied to a senator or representative, usually sound much larger than their ordinary meaning warrants. In order properly to estimate the value of the introduction of a bill one must remember that of 12,000 or 15,000 measures introduced a few hundred only are passed. As for proposed amendments to the constitution, the infant mortality among them is appalling. Each new congress sees a score or more of proposals for a "sixteenth amendment to the constitution." We shall doubtless some time have such a thing, yet three amendments, all of which were consequences of a great civil war, represent the only changes made in the constitution since the presidency of Thomas Jefferson.—Youth's Companion.

Houses and Superstitions.
"Real estate men are gradually forgetting most of the old time superstitions which used to cause us much trouble," said a dealer the other day. "The number of houses which cannot be rented or sold on account of being haunted or because some terrible crime was committed on the premises is rapidly decreasing. We run across only a few people who balk at living in house No. 13. Even elderly men who have made big fortunes are beginning to believe that there is nothing in the old saying that the aged rich man builds a mansion to die in."—New York Tribune.

The Whip Tree.
In the island of Jamaica grows a tree, with the botanical name Daphne laetifolia, from the branches of which native workmen make peculiarly strong and excellent whips, which have the handle and lash all of a piece. The handle consists of a part of the stem retaining the bark. For the lash the stem is deprived of bark and then split into strips, which are woven together in a flexible cord six or seven feet in length. The proper taper is afforded by detaching more and more of the strips as the end of the lash is approached.

Composite.
Dashaway—Quilldriver seems to be a fellow of extremes—one who writes awful slush and sublime prose and who is at the same time an idiot and a genius.

Clevertown—Where did you get such an idea?
Dashaway—I've just been reading the reviews of his latest book.—Harper's Bazar.

Distinctly Original.
Clara—But were the places described in Tom's book at all like the real places and did the men and women act and talk like real people?

Edith—Mercy, no! The book is distinctly original. That is the charm of it, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Pleasant While It Lasted.
"What would you do if you woke up some morning to find that you had inherited a million dollars?"
"I'd turn over on the other side and try to dream it again."—Chicago Record-Herald.

France produces $15,000,000 worth of chestnuts a year and Italy $20,000,000 worth.

Rheumatic Warped Limbs.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body.

No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right.

The most effective kidney remedy known to man is in A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They cure rheumatism permanently by making the kidneys active in their work of removing the uric acid from the blood.

Mr. William J. Coad, No. 65 Brunson Street, Oswego, N. Y., writes: "I am very glad to praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and tell what they have done for me. I suffered for many years with severe constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble, and could get no relief until I tried Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In them I found immediate relief, and can honestly recommend them to other sufferers."
